DETAILED ACTION

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the Title:

The title has been replaced with "Active matrix display device with asymmetrical reflection, and insulating layer with a corrugated surface and a flat portion".

End of examiner's amendment.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 14-23 and 31 are allowed.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art does not disclose the device of claim 14, in particular the limitation that there is an insulating layer containing both a corrugated surface on which the reflecting layer (pixel electrode) is disposed, and a flat portion on which the switching elements are disposed. For instance, U.S. Patent No. 6,806,927 to Nimura discloses [see Fig. 19] an insulating layer [11] with a flat portion on which a switching element is disposed, and another region [to the right] on which a reflecting layer with an uneven surface is disposed; however, the insulating layer has portions removed [10b compared to 10a], rather than having a corrugated surface in this region. U.S. Patent No. 6,172,728 to Hiraishi discloses [see Fig. 4] an insulating layer [7] with a corrugated portion on which a reflecting layer [4] is disposed, but not a flat portion on which a switching element is disposed [part of the switching element, the gate electrode [12] is below the insulating layer]. Similarly, U.S. Patent No. 6,753,938 to Yamada et al. discloses [see Fig. 1] an insulating layer [6] with a corrugated portion on which a reflecting layer is disposed, but not a flat portion on which a switching element is disposed [since part of the switching element, the gate electrode [3], is below the insulating layer]. Claim 14 is therefore allowed, as are dependent claims 15-23 and 31.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
